Follow the Master. Prayer: That the Holy Spirit who scrutinizes everything, will assist all those discerning a vocation to the priesthood and consecrated life in discovering the truth of God's call, we pray to the Lord. Action: All of us without exception, both individually and in society, have a life-long obligation to strive after heavenly values. . . . The traditional as well as the contemporary Christian approach to life is to strive with all zeal for evangelical perfection, and at the same time to contribute toward the material

Blessed are you. (Luke 6:21)

Jesus' words to the crowd sounded innocent enough at first. Who wouldn't want the poor, the hungry, and the sorrowful to find blessing? Surely they've suffered enough! But then he went on: "Woe to you who are rich. . .

Woe to you who are filled. . . Woe to you who laugh" (Luke 6:24, 25).

Questions probably started swirling in the people's minds when they heard this. Did Jesus want people to be unhappy? Were the successful going to be judged harshly because they had a good life? But Jesus wanted his hearers to ask different questions: Which group do I fit into? Why have I come here today?

The poor, the hungry, the sorrowful: these are the ones who know their need for Jesus. They know they have nothing on their own that can truly satisfy them. And so they come to Jesus so that he can fill the emptiness in their hearts. The rich, the comfortable, the happy: these are the ones who don't feel much need for Jesus—at least not in the way the others do. Maybe they had come that day to see what all the fuss was about or to listen to an interesting speaker. They had not come to be filled—and certainly not to be challenged like this!

Of course, Jesus wasn't condemning out of hand anyone who fell into the "rich" category. He was offering them a chance to change. He was asking them to make room in their hearts for him and his teaching.

You can ask yourself similar questions at Mass today: Why have I come here? Am I here to be fed and filled up? Are there areas of my life where I feel comfortable keeping Jesus at arm's length?

Jesus is waiting for you today. He wants to give you the riches of his mercy, the joy of his love, and the Bread of eternal life. So come to him hungry and empty. Come and let him fill you.

"Lord, help me to be humble before you. Let me hear you say to me, 'Blessed are you.'"

Celebration (The Mass, Prayer, Devotions (rosary, pilgrimages etc.)) – Wednesday, Feb. 23rd from 7:30 - 8:30 p.m.

As Catholics, our sacramental life is central, particularly the Eucharist, which is "the source and summit of our faith (CCC 1324)." Our devotional life is also unique to us. Please invite friends, neighbours and family members to participate in this forum, where we will answer questions about CELEBRATION (The Mass, Prayer, Devotions (rosary, pilgrimages etc.)). Before we gather on February 23rd, please take the time to consider the following questions prayerfully.

How do prayer, devotions (rosary, pilgrimage etc.), and liturgical celebrations inspire and guide our common life and mission in our community? How do they inspire the most important decisions? How do we promote the active participation of all the faithful in the liturgy? What space is given to participating in the ministries of lector and acolyte?
