Fifth Sunday of Ordinary Time A Vocation View: Jesus speaks on

Vocations: "You are the salt of the earth. You are the light of the world. Your light must shine before people so that they may see your goodness in your acts, giving praise to your heavenly Father."

Prayer: That God's love for us manifest in the gift of His only Son will inspire many men and women to give themselves to God as priests, deacons and in the consecrated life, we pray to the Lord.

Action: LIFE is not merely summarized by "what are you willing to die for", ask yourself "what am I willing to LIVE for?"

PASTORAL CARE - www.padiocese.ca/pastoral-care

Protect our Sask Medical Professionals ... please sign and share the petition.

Here is an excerpt from the article:

Saskatchewan medical professionals are vulnerable to legal prosecution if they do not bend to coercion and intimidation to participate in medical assistance in dying (MAiD). There needs to be legal protection for the medical professionals who object to the participation of MAiD, or the pressures of offering it to their patients.

We would like to see the Saskatchewan Legislative Assembly pass conscience protection legislation similar to that passed in Manitoba in 2017. The legislation passed was effective in aiding those who conscientiously refused and it also protected them from a regulatory body of nurses or doctors requiring participation as well. Manitoba's legislation could act as an example for other provinces to follow.

View the article, sign the petition, and watch a video interview on the value of all life, regardless of a person's ability, by clicking on this link Pastoral Care webpage and selecting 'Protect Sask Medical Professionals' in the table of contents on the left-hand side.

Your light must shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your heavenly Father. (Matthew 5:16)

How are our good deeds like a shining light? And why do they bring glory to God? A key to understanding Jesus' words lies in today's first reading from Isaiah.

The reading describes what have come to be called the Corporal Works of Mercy: feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, sheltering the homeless, giving to the poor (Isaiah 58:7, 10). By performing these works, we imitate our heavenly Father, whose mercy knows no bounds. So when people see these "good deeds" (Matthew 5:16), they see how God loves them: with generosity, mercy, and faithfulness. We believe that God Himself reaches out to people through our actions. He is helping us display a "family likeness" to Him, and it points anyone who sees us back to Him.

In a broader way, our works of mercy can also contribute toward the kind of society that reflects God's priorities. How? The mercy we show people changes our own hearts. We see other people as beloved children of God, and that affects the way we act. And people notice. When, for instance, we sacrifice a night out so that we can give time or money to the needy, our corner of the world begins to look a little more like God's kingdom. When His generosity starts to overcome our selfishness or materialism, we help the people around us see that something different, something better, is possible.

And, as Isaiah says, our "light shall break forth like the dawn" (58:8).

What concrete ways can God show His mercy through you? Start at your parish. It likely has programs to serve the poor or reach out to those in need. Maybe you could work at a homeless shelter or even start an outreach like serving lunches at a soup kitchen.

Get involved, and let the light of God's likeness shine forth.

"Father, I want my actions to glorify You!"
